Five Games in Seven Days Awaits Lions

Return Home Highlighted by Meeting with Rival

BRIEFLY

It will be a tough homecoming for the Loyola Marymount University baseball team as they return to Page Stadium. Beginning with a home date against Cal State Northridge on Tuesday, April 10, the Lions will play five games at home in a seven-day span that will be highlighted by four contests against teams in the nation's top 25, including archrival Pepperdine. Following the three-game series against the 24th-ranked Waves, the Lions will conclude the homestand against the 9th-ranked Cal State Fullerton Titans on April 17.

CAL STATE NORTHRIDGE...

Since the Lions' 7-3 win over Cal State Northridge in the season opener on January 30 at Page Stadium, things have gone in opposite directions for the two programs this season. While the Lions have gone 15-24 in the 2001 campaign while struggling through growing pains to replace seven starters from a year ago that went pro, the Matadors have rebounded to stand at 22-13 on the season. Their wins include victories over nationally ranked Texas Tech and Pepperdine. However, in the opening weekend of play in the Big West Conference, the Matadors dropped two-of-three to Cal Poly. As one of the more offensively minded teams on the Lions' schedule, the Matadors hit .320 as a team and have 51 home runs on the season. Jason Allec leads the team with a .424 batting average while only playing in 22 of CSN's 35 games. J.T. Stoots, however, has been the Matadors go-to guy, starting in all 35 games while hitting .415 and leading the team with nine homeruns. On the mound, Northridge will look to Bobby Graves. In 10 appearances, Graves has a team-high 10.19 ERA. Leading the Matadors on the hill is Andy Davidson and his 5-1 record. In 11 appearances, he has a 3.10 ERA to pace the team's 4.59 average.

PEPPERDINE...

As the team to beat in the West Coast Conference, the Lions' archrivals enter a three-game series atop the conference at 12-3 and ranked 24th by Collegiate Baseball with a 23-12 overall record. Pitching has paced the Waves this season to a ranking as high as ninth in the country. With a team ERA of 3.71, tops in the WCC,

THE COACH...LMU Head Coach Frank Cruz (Pepperdine, '83) enters his fifth season at Loyola Marymount with a mark of 128-109-1. The Lions 40 wins in 2000 is fourth all-time at LMU for wins in a season, and for their efforts, Cruz was named the West Coast Conference Coach of the Year. It is his second coach of the year honor. He first earned the honor in 1998. Cruz entered the baseball coaching ranks as the head coach at University High School in Los Angeles. He coached there for eight seasons before accepting an assistant coaching position at USC under head coach Mike Gillespie. Cruz coached at USC for four years before being named the 6th head coach in school history at LMU. Two years ago, Cruz was named Recruiter of the Year by Collegiate Baseball after signing 10 recruits to play for the Lions in 1998, six of which were drafted. In just four seasons, Cruz has guided the Loyola Marymount University baseball program to three West Coast Conference titles. Establishing a major turnaround with the program, Cruz has posted back-to-back-to-back 30-plus win seasons. LMU was 21-39 three years ago in Cruz's first season. The Lions finished 34-23-1 in 1998, 33-28 in 1999 and 40-19 a year ago. Cruz has also guided the Lions to three-consecutive NCAA Regional appearances. In addition, on Feb. 1, 2000, Cruz was named an assistant coach for the 2000 USA Baseball National Team and led the to a first place finish in international play.

it is not a surprise they have one of the best pitchers in the country. Noah Lowry has a 1.90 ERA and a 9-1 record, earning a decision in every appearance this season. Lowry has struckout 81 hitters on the season while walking a mere 28. He also has a complete game shutout to his resume this season. Giving the Waves a one-two punch on the mound is Daniel Haren and his 2.33 ERA. With a record of 6-2, Haren has 60 strikeouts on the season. Offensively, the Waves are led by Jared Pitney (.375 batting average) and Danny Garcia (.357). Pitney leads the team with six home runs on the season, while Garcia is tops with 33 RBI. Five of the Waves' starters are hitting above .300 on the season, including Woody Cliffords and his team-high 17 doubles. The rivalry between the Lions and Waves has been intense, with both teams playing each other in the WCC Championships the last two seasons. The Lions have won the WCC title the last three seasons, including a sweep in the Championship a year ago against the Waves.

PREVIOUS WEEK...

Loyola Marymount began the four-game week with a 10-4 loss to Long Beach State on Tuesday, April 3. The 49ers started the game by scoring three runs on no hits in a five-run first inning that put the game out of reach for the Lions. The Lions then traveled to Moraga to take on Saint Mary's with a golden chance to get back into the WCC Coast Division race. However, the Gaels took care of business to sweep the Lions. The Lions fell in game one of the series 12-6, despite outhitting the Gaels 16-15. In the second game, five Lion errors led to four Gael runs and a 9-6 loss. Junior Kris Zacuto went 3-for-5 with three RBI in the loss. Despite a solid pitching performance by freshman Joshua Muecke, the Lions fell to Saint Mary's 3-0 in the final game. Muecke allowed two earned runs and just four hits in the loss. The Lions stranded 11 runners in the game and outthit the Gaels 6-4. In conference play, the Lions are still looking for their first road win. Zacuto showed why he earned third team All-America honors in the preseason in the four-game week. He finished hitting .467 for the Lions. He is on a five-game hitting streak, going 1-for-2 against Long Beach State and then 2-for-4, 3-for-5 and 1-for-4 in games against Saint Mary's. He finished the week with six RBI and two doubles. This past week the youth movement for the Lions came from freshman Billy Lockin. The second baseman supplied some punch, going 6-for-13 from the plate (.462) in the Lions' latest four-game stretch. He had a walk and a stolen base in going 1-for-1 against Long Beach State. He was 2-for-5 with an RBI in the game one against Saint Mary's, and went 2-for-3 and 1-for-4 in the final two games of the series. He is currently on a career-high four game hitting streak.

WHAT A WEEK AGAINST USF...

C.J. Wilson, a junior college transfer from Santa Ana Junior College continues a major upswing now that West Coast Conference play has started. The lefty finished the four-game week going 6-for-15 (.400), netting a double, a triple and three RBI. His single in the final game of the series against San Francisco drove in two runs and he scored twice himself to help his own cause, helping the Lions to their first multiple-game win streak since they opened the season with five straight wins. Getting the start on the hill in that game, Wilson had his longest outing of the season, going 7.2 innings and striking out six Don hitters. He allowed only two earned runs and four hits (all coming in the fourth inning). It was his first win of the season. On the season, Wilson has shown he can do a little of everything for the Lions. In the Lions' four-game stint against San Diego State and Santa Clara, Wilson had a break-out series, finishing the week with a .467 average. He was 7-for-15 from the plate, getting his second home run of the season and adding a double. He had 11 total bases on the week, finishing with a .733 slugging percentage. On the season, he is hitting .299, and is third on the team with 24 RBI. Wilson continues to show signs of improvement on the mound, as he picked up the win against Portland, his second straight. On the mound, he leads the team with 56 strikeouts and 54.2 innings pitched. He is 2-4 with a 5.43 ERA.

TURN TWO...

Second baseman Jack Brooks had one of his finest series in his four-year career as a Lion against USF. He finished the Lions' four-game set hitting .417 (5-for-12) with three doubles and three RBI. In the series against the Dons, he was 5-for-9 (.555) with all three RBI. He was 3-for-3 in the Lions' game two win over the Dons, breaking LMU's seven-game winless streak. He also added a sacrifice bunt and a stolen base. More importantly, in the Lions four games this past week he helped shore up the defensive duties for the Lions, getting eight putouts, 10 assists while committing no errors. He was also part of the Lions' seven double plays against the Dons. He is now hitting .274 on the season. The other part of the Lions senior double-play team is Moon Cordero. In addition to his 14 putouts and 28 assists (team high) with no errors against the Dons, he finished the USF series hitting .363 (4-for-11) with two doubles and four RBI. In nine conference games, the senior shortstop is on fire. He is second on the team in WCC play with a .382 batting average (21-for-55) with five doubles and seven RBI. For the first time in his career with the Lions, he is hitting above .300 with a .303 average on the season (37-for-122), which is fourth overall for the Lions.

ANOTHER P.O.W...

Junior Tommy Perez hit his team-leading sixth home run against Portland. His biggest series of the season came against Cal as he earned three in the three-game series. He had his first multiple home run game of his career in the final game of the series, getting a three-run shot in the first and a solo shot over left-center in the eighth. How hot was the junior against Cal? He finished the week hitting .615 (8-for-13), with six RBI, three home runs and one double. He scored seven times and finished the week with a 1.385 slugging percentage. His performance earned him Player of the Week honors in the West Coast Conference, the Lions' second straight. He led the team in RBI, home runs and a .784 slugging percentage. On the season, he is hitting .304 (31-for-102) with 25 RBI, good for second on the squad.

FIRST P.O.W...

Senior outfielder David Maffei earned the Lions' first West Coast Conference Player of the Week nod of the season. He finished the Lions' 2-2 week with a .857 slugging percentage. The left fielder had four hits on the week, all for extra bases. He finished with two doubles and two home runs. The 12 total bases drove in eight runs for the Lions, while Maffei himself scored six times. He led the team in runs scored, home runs, RBI and total bases.

A QUIET LEADER...

Junior first baseman Kris Zacuto quietly became a force for the Lions in the 2000 season. Thus, heading into the 2001 season he has been named a third-team All-American by the NCBWA. As one of the returning offensive forces in the Lions' lineup, Zacuto has begun in the middle of the order. While playing primarily at first base a year ago, the junior has been a mainstay at catcher while suppling time at first base in late inning situations. Through the first five games of the season, Zacuto was only hitting .235 with a double and three RBI. However, he has had the hot bat for the Lions and welcomed West Coast Conference play with a bang. In three games against Gonzaga the junior finished hitting .692 (9-for-13). He finished the week with two doubles and his third homer of the season. He has stayed on the hot streak, and is leading the team with a .363 average, including a .439 clip in conference play. More leading numbers for Zacuto: He leads the team with 53 hits, 11 doubles, 27 RBI and 70 total bases. He has played in all 39 games for the Lions this season. In the latest four-game set, he led the team with a .467 batting average (7-for-15) and six RBI.

SENIOR LEADERS...

The Loyola Marymount University baseball team has five players on the roster who know how to win West Coast Conference championships. Five seniors return to the Lions' roster this season that have been a part of the Lions' last three WCC titles. Outfielder Robert Hirsh, second baseman Jack Brooks, and pitchers James Clelland, Brian Felten and Chris Gray will compete in their fourth and final year in a Lions' uniform. All told, there are 10 seniors on the squad this season.

CAMEO APPEARANCE...

Senior right-handed pitcher Chris Gray has become a staple out of the bullpen for the Lions in his previous three years with LMU. Entering his final season, Gray has broken into the top-10 list for appearances. With his 24 already this season, appearing in two games last week, he moved into a tie with Joe Caruso for second all-time on the career appearance list with 98. Darryl Scott holds the record for appearances by a pitcher with 131 in his career that spanned from 1987-90. Gray started the season with 74 career appearances. ANOTHER TWO-WAY THREAT...

Another two-way threat for the Lions is freshman Joshua Whitesell. The lefty from Rialto High School has been a pleasant addition to the Lions lineup, pitching in 16 games and appearing in 31 offensively. He has a 5.45 ERA and has appeared in games as a designated hitter, first baseman and in the outfield. He has a .297 batting average, going 33-for-111 with eight doubles. Against Cal Poly he finished with his best four-game series of his career. He was .438 from the plate, getting a team-high seven hits during the four-game set. He added two doubles in the series and finished with a slugging percentage of .562. He was one of the young heroes in game one against Portland, as his two-out, two RBI double tied the game in the bottom of the ninth to send it into extra innings. He also picked up a win on the mound in game one of the doubleheader against the Mustangs, pitching the final 3.1 innings during a 11-10 win in 11 innings. He is now 3-3 on the season, tied with senior James Clelland and Joshua Muecke for the team-high in wins.

CAREER FIRST...

Junior Kayzell Milton, who continues to amaze following full recovery from cancer two years ago, showed some rare power against Gonzaga. Milton, who has 14 hits on the season in earning three starts last week, earned his first home run of his career in game one against the Bulldogs. He finished the week against Santa Clara going 2-for-4 (.500) with a run scored. Against Portland and Long Beach State, Milton finished the week hitting 3-for-9 (.333) with a double and a run scored. He had his third straight week hitting better than .300 with a 3-for-10 effort against Saint Mary's. He is now hitting .255 on the season (14-for-55). He leads the team in stolen bases with five.

CRUZ HELPS TEAM USA TO MEMORABLE SUMMER

Loyola Marymount University head baseball coach Frank Cruz became a major frequent flyer this summer. The fifth-year head coach of the Lions was asked to be an assistant coach for the USA National Baseball team this summer, which took him to almost every corner of the world, finishing the tour in Haarlem, The Netherlands. Similar to what he has done with the Lions' program in leading them to three consecutive West Coast Conference titles, Team USA found unparalleled success this summer. Cruz was part of the USA National Team's win over Cuba, 8-5, to claim the championship of the Baseball Week Tournament in Haarlem, The Netherlands Sunday. The win was the second for the National Team over Cuba in four days after defeating the Cubans 9-1. Cruz helped Team USA finish the 2000 Red, White and Blue Tour with a 27-3-1 record, including a 6-0 mark in the tournament. Team USA closed the season with a 21-game unbeaten streak dating to July 7th, which included 20 wins and one tie. The Americans won its last eight games in a row. Cuba dropped to 4-2 in the tournament, with their only losses coming to the USA. The victory gives the National Team a .900 winning percentage, the best in team history. The 1984 team, featuring future Major League All-Stars McGwire, Barry Larkin, Will Clark and B.J. Surhoff, was 37-5-1, for an .881 winning percentage. Cruz and the LMU Lion's program has seen similar success in owning the WCC the past three seasons. In 2000, the Lions posted a 22-8 record in the WCC and 40-19 overall. The team featured six future MLB draft picks and ranked third all-time for victories in a season. Entering his fifth season at LMU, Cruz has posted a 128-109-1 record and has earned two WCC Coach of the Year honors (1998 & 2000).

BREAKING THE WIN BARRIER...

The Lions entered the 2001 season with three consecutive 30-plus win seasons. The only other time they had three or more consecutive seasons of 30 or more wins was from 1986-1991 when they did it six straight years. The 40 wins in 2000 was the fourth best in LMU history. In 1986, the Lions won a record 50 games... The 2000 season featured a 10-game win streak near the end of the season, as the Lions won 13 of their last 17 and 16 of their last 21 games. The Lions went 12-4 in three-game series last season and were 23-0 when scoring 10 or more runs, which included a 30-run outburst against Saint Mary's.

WCC THREE-PEAT...

Ranked #16 at the time, the Loyola Marymount Lions captured their third straight West Coast Conference Championship with a 6-2 win over Pepperdine University at Page Stadium in game two of the WCC baseball championships. Junior right fielder Jason Aspito led the Lions offensively with his 10th home run of the season. He finished the game 2-for-4, scoring two runs and driving in three RBIs. RHP Michael Schultz went the distance for LMU, he gave up just two runs on four hits while fanning five batters for his ninth win of the season. After using a solid pitching performance from junior Billy Traber to take game one in the best-of-three series, the Lions turned the pitching duties to Schultz. The junior shut down the Waves, going seven before allowing the two runs in the eighth. He closed the game with a perfect ninth to lift the Lions to the title. The Lions took a 1-0 lead in the fifth as Jeff Walker's single drove in Kris Zacuto. The first baseman singled to left with two outs. Schultz faced the minimum in the bottom half to hold the 1-0 lead. LMU broke through in the sixth, scoring three runs thanks to the home run by Aspito. The blast to right that hit the scoreboard scored Scott Walter and Mike Hymes. The Lions added two in the eighth, also with two outs. The rally started with Aspito's single. Aspito scored on Anthony Angel's triple. Angel was driven in by Zacuto's single. For the two game championship series, Angel, the WCC co-Player of the Year, finished 6-for-10 with two doubles, a triple and four RBI.

PIPE LINE TO THE PROS...

The 2000 season produced some of the top prospects in the country, as five Lions were selected in the first 20 rounds of the 2000 Major League Baseball draft. Junior left-handed pitcher Billy Traber, who was named second team All-American by Collegiate Baseball, was the 16th overall pick in the draft, being selected by the New York Mets. Right-hander Michael Schultz, who was also a junior, was selected in the second round with the 69th overall pick by the Arizona Diamondbacks. Schultz's and Traber's battery mate, junior Scott Walter, was selected by the Kansas City Royals in the third round with the 74th overall pick. The third team All-America selection was a Johnny Bench Award finalist for the country's best catcher and finished tops in the West Coast Conference with 19 home runs. In the ninth round, the Chicago White Sox selected utility specialist Jason Aspito with the 262nd pick in the 2000 draft. The WCC Co-Player of the Year, senior Anthony Angel, was selected by the Houston Astros in the 14th round as the 427th pick in the 2000 draft. Following the draft, the Arizona Diamondbacks remained committed to the Lions pitching, signing senior Ben Bonilla as a free agent.

LIONS AND THE REGIONALS...

The three-time defending West Coast Conference Champions headed into their third straight Regional appearance as the number three seed and facing Cal State Fullerton in the Lions first game. Behind the efforts of second team All-American Billy Traber, LMU earned its first postseason win since the upset of Stanford in 1998, 6-4 over the number two seeded Titans. Traber's complete game, 13-strikeout performance included two bases loaded jams, coming in the fifth and ninth innings with no outs. In the fifth, after the Titans loaded the bases on a walk, a single and an error, Traber struck out the next three batters to get out of the jam. With a 6-3 lead in the ninth, the Titans again loaded the bases. Traber allowed a run on a sac fly and retired the next two batters on a fly and a ground out for his 10th win of the season. David Maffei's two-run home run in the first inning started a four-run outburst for the Lions in the first two innings of the game. The win allowed the Lions to advance in the winner's bracket against Southern California. USC used a three-run eighth and a five-run ninth to break a 5-5 tie in the top of the eighth for a 13-5 win over the Lions. LMU dropped to 0-3 against the Trojans on the season. The Lions allowed 18 hits in the loss, dropping the Lions to an elimination game against Cal State Fullerton, who defeated Virginia Tech to advance. Michael Schultz went seven and two-thirds innings and picked up his sixth loss of the season. Jeff Walker was an offensive spark for the Lions, finishing the game 2-for-4 with two RBI and a double. Senior Ben Bonilla pitched a complete game for the Lions, but picked up his first loss of the season in a 5-2 defeat to Cal State Fullerton, knocking the Lions out of the NCAA Tournament. Fullerton's Ronnie Corona went eight innings and allowed only four hits and struck out 12 Lions for the win. Kirk Saarloos came in the ninth for the save. The Lions had only five players reach base, as Fullerton advanced to the championship against USC. The Trojans would win the regional to advance to the Super Regional. The Lions finished the season 40-19 (22-8).

COACH OF THE YEAR..

Head Coach Frank Cruz, wrapping up his fourth season as skipper of the LMU Baseball program, earned career win No.100 on March 10 when his Lions defeated San Francisco, 16-4, in Game 1 of LMU's three game series at Page Stadium. Cruz has guided LMU to 30-plus win seasons in each of the past three years. The 40 wins this season is his career high here at LMU.

19 YEARS OF BASEBALL AT PAGE STADIUM...

Now in its 19th season as the home of Lion baseball, George C. Page Stadium represents one of the finest collegiate baseball facilities in the country. The facility, which has been the site of filming for numerous commercials as well as feature films, is named in honor of George C. Page, president of the Incentive Aid Foundation. Maynard Kambak, father of LMU baseball alumnus Jeff Kambak, assisted Mr. Page in the stadium's construction that was completed in 1983. LMU's historic first game in Page Stadium was played on March 19, 1983, LMU losing to Cal State Fullerton, 5-1. This season the Lions were an impressive 21-6 at Page Stadium, which was the best winning percentage (.778) in the conference. They enter the 2001 campaign with a five game win streak at Page Stadium. Since 1997, when Frank Cruz took over the program, LMU has established a 71-45 record at Page, a winning percentage of more than 61 percent. That percentage is also the Lions' overall mark at home in the park's 18 years, as the LMU has posted a 316-201 record (.611). Some of the best years have come in the five conference titles the Lions have won while calling Page Stadium home. They are 168-55 in conference championship years at home. The first Page Stadium conference title came in 1986 when the Lions posted a 24-8 record at home that season. The best record came in 1988, when LMU was 30-4 at home (88 percent).
