Home Stand Continues with Long Beach State

BRIEFLY

The Loyola Marymount University baseball team put together its first back-to-back wins since starting the season 5-0 by winning two-of-three games against the University of San Francisco in West Coast Conference play last weekend. The Lions have now won 12 of 15 games against the Dons as they prepare to conclude their current eight-game home stand against Long Beach State on Tuesday, March 27 and a three-game series against Portland starting Friday, March 30. It is the longest home stand of the season for the Lions, as they enter the week 14-17 overall and 3-6 in conference play.

LONG BEACH STATE...

The 49ers of Long Beach State will come into Page Stadium at 14-10 on the season while recently dropping two-of-three games to Cal State Fullerton. The meeting with the Lions will be the third West Coast Conference opponent of the season for Long Beach State, as they are 3-0 with two wins against Pepperdine and one against San Diego. Leading the way for the 49ers is Jeremy Reed with a .358 batting average. He had a hit in every game last week for Long Beach State and he leads the team with 34 hits on the year. The only other starter hitting over .300 on the season is Jeff Jones at a clip of .329. As a team they have hit only nine homeruns, four by Jones. Getting the call for Long Beach State will be Jeff Baumbach who is 2-1 on the season with a 4.20 ERA. He earned the 4-0 win against Pepperdine on March 7. The two teams split a pair in 2000 and head coach Frank Cruz is 2-7 against the 49ers.

PORTLAND...

Portland enters the three game series against the Lions with a surprise start to the 2001 season. The Pilots earned votes earlier this season in the Coaches Poll and enter the week at 13-13 and 3-6 in conference play. Despite the votes nationally, the Pilots have not won a three-game series this season and are coming off losing two-of-three against Saint Mary's. Travis Hanson is the only Pilot player to have started every game this season and is third on the team with a .344 batting average. Unlike the Lions' Tuesday opponent, the Pilots have some power to their line-up in hitting 19 homeruns on the season. Kory Casto, who is hitting .305 on the season, leads the team with five, followed by Brad Stewart's four. Defensively, the Pilots have had

THE COACH...LMU Head Coach Frank Cruz (Pepperdine, '83) enters his fifth season at Loyola Marymount with a mark of 128-109-1. The Lions 40 wins in 2000 is fourth all-time at LMU for wins in a season, and for their efforts, Cruz was named the West Coast Conference Coach of the Year. It is his second coach of the year honor. He first earned the honor in 1998. Cruz entered the baseball coaching ranks as the head coach at University High School in Los Angeles. He coached there for eight seasons before accepting an assistant coaching position at USC under head coach Mike Gillespie. Cruz coached at USC for four years before being named the 6th head coach in school history at LMU. Two years ago, Cruz was named Recruiter of the Year by Collegiate Baseball after signing 10 recruits to play for the Lions in 1998, six of which were drafted. In just four seasons, Cruz has guided the Loyola Marymount University baseball program to three West Coast Conference titles. Establishing a major turnaround with the program, Cruz has posted back-to-back-to-back 30-plus win seasons. LMU was 21-39 three years ago in Cruz's first season. The Lions finished 34-23-1 in 1998, 33-28 in 1999 and 40-19 a year ago. Cruz has also guided the Lions to three-consecutive NCAA Regional appearances. In addition, on Feb. 1, 2000, Cruz was named an assistant coach for the 2000 USA Baseball National Team and led the to a first place finish in international play.

only two games all season allowing an opponent to score double-figure runs. Leading the way for the Pilots is Eric Hull, who in nine appearances has started six games to post a team low 3.18 ERA. He is the only pitcher with three wins, while the other starters include Matt Hollod (4.15 ERA) and Steve Chamberlain (7.31 ERA). All three have started in six contests on the season, tied for the team lead. The Lions took two of three games a year ago in Portland. In 1999, Portland caused problems for the Lions, winning five of six games. The Lions hold a slim 10-9 edge over Portland since the 1997 season.

PREVIOUS WEEK...

Loyola Marymount split four games last week, getting two wins against San Francisco and losing one to the Dons and one to San Diego State. The Lions started an eight-game home stand with a loss to the Aztecs, 11-3. The Lions built a 2-0 lead heading into the sixth, but saw it disappear with a seven run sixth inning by San Diego State. The three-game series against the Dons started with a dominating performance by San Francisco starter Jesse Foppert, who struckout 13 Lion hitters while walking only one in earning a 5-2 victory. The Lions rebounded in game two of the series with a 7-2 win of their own to break a seven-game slide. Freshman Joshua Muecke went six innings for the win and senior Brian Felten pitched three innings of relief. A four-run third inning by the Lions proved to be the difference as eight and nine hitters Moon Cordero and Jack Brooks combined for a 5-for-7 effort from the plate. Both Cordero and Brooks were at it again in game three of the series as the Lions held onto a 10-9 win. Both Cordero and Brooks finished the game 2-for-4 and Cordero added an RBI.

WHAT A WEEK...

C.J. Wilson, a junior college transfer from Santa Ana Junior College continues a major upswing now that West Coast Conference play has started. The lefty finished the four-game week going 6-for-15 (.400), netting a double, a triple and three RBI. His single in the final game of the series against San Francisco drove in two runs and he scored twice himself to help his own cause, helping the Lions to thier first multiple-game win streak since they opened the season with five straight wins. Getting the start on the hill in that game, Wilson had his longest outing of the season, going 7.2 innings and striking out six Don hitters. He allowed only two earned runs and four hits (all coming in the fourth inning). It was his first win of the season. On the season, Wilson has shown he can do a little everything for the Lions. In the Lions four-game stint against San Diego State and Santa Clara, Wilson had a breakout series, finishing the week with a .467 average. He was 7-for-15 from the plate, getting his second homerun of the season and adding a double. He had 11 total bases on the week, finishing with a .733 slugging percentage. On the season, he is second on the team with a .330 batting average, and leads LMU with 23 RBI. On the mound, Wilson continues to improve. He leads the team with 44 strikeouts and 46.1 innings pitched. He is 1-4 with a 5.83 ERA.

TURN TWO...

Second baseman Jack Brooks had one of his finest series in his four-year career as a Lion. He finished the Lions' four-game set hitting .417 (5-for-12) with three doubles and three RBI. In the series against the Dons, he was 5-for-9 (.555) with all three RBI. He was 3-for-3 in the Lions' game two win over the Dons, breaking LMU's seven-game winless streak. He also added a sacrifice bunt and a stolen base. More importantly, in the Lions four games this past week he helped shore up the defensive duties for the Lions, getting eight put-outs, 10 assists while committing no errors. He was also part of the Lions seven double plays against the Dons. He is now fifth on the team in hitting (.288). The other part of the Lions senior double-play team is Moon Cordero. In addition to his 14 putouts and 28 assists (team high) with no errors against the Dons, he finished the USF series hitting .363 (4-for-11) with two doubles and four RBI. In nine conference games, the senior short stop is on fire. He is leading the team with a .469 batting average (15-for-32) with four doubles and seven RBI. He has also added a sacrifice bunt and a stolen base in those nine games. For the first time in his career with the Lions, he is hitting above 300 with a .308 average on the season (28-for-91), which is fourth overall.

ANOTHER P.O.W...

Junior Tommy Perez is tied for the team lead with five homeruns, earning three in the three-game series against the Cal Bears. He had his first multiple homerun game of his career in the final game of the series, getting a three-run shot in the first and a solo shot over left-center in the eighth. How hot was the junior against Cal? He finished the week hitting .615 (8-for-13), with six RBI, three homeruns and one double. He scored seven times and finished the week with a 1.385 slugging percentage. His performance earned him Player of the Week honors in the West Coast Conference, the Lions second straight. He led the team in RBI, homeruns and a .784 slugging percentage. On the season, he is hitting .315 (28-for-89) with 22 RBI, second on the team.

FIRST P.O.W...

Senior outfielder David Maffei earned the Lions' first West Coast Conference Player of the Week nod of the season. He finished the Lions' 2-2 week with a .857 slugging percentage. The leftfielder had four hits on the week, all for extra bases. He finished with two double and two homeruns. The 12 total bases drove in eight runs for the Lions, while Maffei himself scored six times. He led the team in runs scored, homeruns, RBI and total bases.

A QUIET LEADER...

Junior first baseman Kris Zacuto quietly became a force for the Lions in the 2001 season. Thus, heading into the 2001 season he has been named a third-team All-American by the NCBWA. As one of the returning offensive forces in the Lions' line-up, Zacuto has begun in the middle of the order. While playing primarily at first base a year ago, the junior has been a mainstay at catcher while suppling time at first base in late inning situations. Through the first five games of the season, Zacuto was only hitting .235 with a double and three RBI. However, he has had the hot bat for the Lions and welcomed West Coast Conference play with a bang. In three games against Gonzaga the junior finished hitting .692 (9-for-13). He finished the week with two doubles and his third homer of the season. He has stayed on the hotstreak, and is leading the team with a .347 average. More leading numbers for Zacuto: He leads the team with 41 hits, eight doubles, and 55 total bases. He has played in all 31 games for the Lions this season.

SENIOR LEADERS...

The Loyola Marymount University baseball team has five players on the roster who know how to win West Coast Conference championships. Five seniors return to the Lions' roster this season that have been a part of the Lions' last three WCC titles. Outfielder Robert Hirsh, second baseman Jack Brooks, and pitchers James Clelland, Brian Felten and Chris Gray will compete in their fourth and final year in a Lions' uniform. All told, there are 10 seniors on the squad this season.

CAMEO APPEARANCE...

Senior right-handed pitcher Chris Gray has become a staple out of the bullpen for the Lions in his previous three years with LMU. Entering his final season, Gray has broken into the top 10 list for appearances. With his 20 already this season, appearing in a game last week, he moved into third place all-time with 94. Darryl Scott holds the record for appearances by a pitcher with 131 in his career that spanned from 1987-90. Gray started the season with 74 career appearances. Of Gray's 94 current appearances, only seven have been starts. He holds a 9-11 record with a 6.04 career ERA. He needs 4 to move into second place.

Career Appearances

Name	No.	Years
1. Darryl Scott	131	1987-90
2. Joe Caruso	98	1989-91
3. Chris Gray	94	1998-current
4. Jeff Cecchin	92	1995-98
5. Shawn Hammett	90	1992-95
Tim Layana	90	1983-86
7. Ben Bonilla	89	1997-00
8. Rod Volk	85	1971-74
9. Tom Henderson	82	1973-76
10. Drew Bentz	79	1974-77

ANOTHER TWO-WAY THREAT...

Another two-way threat for the Lions is freshman Joshua Whitesell. The lefty from Rialto High School has been a pleasant addition to the Lions line-up, pitching in 14 games and appearing in 27 offensively. He has a 4.05 ERA and has appeared in games as a designated hitter, first baseman and in the outfield. He has a .281 batting average, going 27-for-96 with seven doubles. Against Cal Poly he finished with his best four-game series of his career. He finished .438 from the plate, getting a team-high seven hits during the four-game set. He added two doubles in the series and finished with a slugging percentage of .562. He also picked up a win on the mound in game one of the doubleheader against the Mustangs, pitching the final 3.1 innings during a 11-10 win in 11 innings. He is now 3-1 on the season, tied with senior James Clelland and Joshua Muecke for the team-high in wins.

CAREER FIRST...

Junior Kayzell Milton, who continues to amaze following full recover from cancer two years ago, showed some rare power against Gonzaga. Milton, who has eight hits on the season in playing in earning three starts last week, earned his first homerun of his career in game one against the Bulldogs. He finished the week against Santa Clara going 2-for-4 (.500) with a run scored. He leads the team in stolen bases with five.

LIONS PICKED TO WIN COAST AGAIN...

The WCC coaches selected the Lions as the favorite to win the Coast Division followed by Gonzaga. Collegiate Baseball Newspaper also selected LMU to win the Coast Division, while all both polls picked Pepperdine to win the West Division and overall league title.

CRUZ HELPS TEAM USA TO MEMORABLE SUMMER

Loyola Marymount University head baseball coach Frank Cruz became a major frequent flyer this summer. The fifth-year head coach of the Lions was asked to be an assistant coach for the USA National Baseball team this summer, which took him to almost every corner of the world, finishing the tour in Haarlem, The Netherlands. Similar to what he has done with the Lions' program in leading them to three consecutive West Coast Conference titles, Team USA found unparalleled success this summer. Cruz was part of the USA National Team's win over Cuba, 8-5, to claim the championship of the Baseball Week Tournament in Haarlem, The Netherlands Sunday. The win was the second for the National Team over Cuba in four days after defeating the Cubans 9-1. Cruz helped Team USA finish the 2000 Red, White and Blue Tour with a 27-3-1 record, including a 6-0 mark in the tournament. Team USA closed the season with a 21-game unbeaten streak dating to July 7th, which included 20 wins and one tie. The Americans won its last eight games in a row. Cuba dropped to 4-2 in the tournament, with their only losses coming to the USA. The victory gives the National Team a .900 winning percentage, the best in team history. The 1984 team, featuring future Major League All-Stars McGwire, Barry Larkin, Will Clark and B.J. Surhoff, was 37-5-1, for an .881 winning percentage. Cruz and the LMU Lion's program has seen similar success in owning the WCC the past three seasons. In 2000, the Lions posted a 22-8 record in the WCC and 40-19 overall. The team featured six future MLB draft picks and ranked third all-time for victories in a season. Entering his fifth season at LMU, Cruz has posted a 128-109-1 record and has earned two WCC Coach of the Year honors (1998 & 2000).

BREAKING THE WIN BARRIER...

The Lions entered the 2001 season with three consecutive 30-plus win season. The only other time they had three or more consecutive seasons of 30 or more wins was from 1986-1991 when they did it six straight years. The 40 wins in 2000 was the fourth best in LMU history. In 1986, the Lions won a record 50 games... The 2000 season featured a 10-game win streak near the end of the season, as the Lions won 13 of their last 17 and 16 of their last 21 games. The Lions went 12-4 in three-game series last season and were 23-0 when scoring 10 or more runs, which included a 30-run outburst against Saint Mary's.

WCC THREE-PEAT...

Ranked #16 at the time, the Loyola Marymount Lions captured their third straight West Coast Conference Championship with a 6-2 win over Pepperdine University at Page Stadium in game two of the WCC baseball championships. Junior right fielder Jason Aspito led the Lions offensively with his 10th home run of the season. He finished the game 2-for-4, scoring two runs and driving in three RBIs. RHP Michael Schultz went the distance for LMU, he gave up just two runs on four hits while fanning five batters for his ninth win of the season. After using a solid pitching performance from junior Billy Traber to take game one in the best-of-three series, the Lions turned the pitching duties to Schultz. The junior shut down the Waves, going seven before allowing the two runs in the eighth. He closed the game with a perfect ninth to lift the Lions to the title. The Lions took a 1-0 lead in the fifth as Jeff Walker's single drove in Kris Zacuto. The first baseman singled to left with two outs. Schultz faced the minimum in the bottom half to hold the 1-0 lead. LMU broke through in the sixth, scoring three runs thanks to the home run by Aspito. The blast to right that hit the scoreboard scored Scott Walter and Mike Hymes. The Lions added two in the eighth, also with two outs. The rally started with Aspito's single. Aspito scored on Anthony Angel's triple. Angel was driven in by Zacuto's single. For the two game championship series, Angel, the WCC co-player of the year, finished 6-for-10 with two doubles, a triple and four RBI.

DIRECTIONS TO LOYOLA MARYMOUNT...Loyola Marymount University is located in the Westchester District of Los Angeles. From Los Angeles International Airport, proceed north on Sepulveda, to Lincoln Boulevard (Highway 1). Continue 1.4 miles west and turn right at Manchester Boulevard. At the first stoplight, approximately two blocks, turn left on Loyola Boulevard. From the 405 Freeway (north or south) exit Manchester Boulevard, turn left coming from the south or right from the north. Continue on Manchester heading west approximately three miles and turn right on Loyola Boulevard. The campus gate will be visible four blocks later. Page Stadium is behind Gersten Pavilion, the first building on the right.

REFERENCE TO LOYOLA MARYMOUNT...When referring to the University, please use its full title, Loyola Marymount University. The abbreviation "LMU" is also acceptable, but please avoid using "Loyola" or "Marymount" alone. Other NCAA institutions including Loyola College in Baltimore, Maryland, Loyola University in New Orleans, Louisiana and Loyola University in Chicago, Illinois are often confused with LMU. Also, no hyphens should be used when spelling out the full name of the University. Thank you for your consideration.

PIPE LINE TO THE PROS...

The 2000 season produced some of the top prospects in the country, as five Lions were selected in the first 20 rounds of the 2000 Major League Baseball draft. Junior lefthanded pitcher Billy Traber, who was named second team All-American by Collegiate Baseball, was the 16th overall pick in the draft, being selected by the New York Mets. Right-hander Michael Schultz, who was also a junior, was selected in the second round with the 69th overall pick by the Arizona Diamondbacks. Schultz's and Traber's battery mate, junior Scott Walter, was selected by the Kansas City Royals in the third round with the 74th overall pick. The third team All-America selection was a Johnny Bench Award finalist for the country's best catcher and finished tops in the West Coast Conference with 19 home runs. In the ninth round, the Chicago White Sox selected utility specialist Jason Aspito with the 262nd pick in the 2000 draft. The WCC Co-Player of the Year, senior Anthony Angel, was selected by the Houston Astros in the 14th round as the 427th pick in the 2000 draft. Following the draft, the Arizona Diamondbacks remained committed to the Lions pitching, signing senior Ben Bonilla as a free agent.

LIONS AND THE REGIONALS...

The three-time defending West Coast Conference Champions headed into their third straight Regional appearance as the number three seed and facing Cal State Fullerton in the Lions first game. Behind the efforts of second team All-American Billy Traber, LMU earned its first postseason win since the upset of Stanford in 1998, 6-4 over the number two seeded Titans. Traber's complete game, 13-strikeout performance included two bases loaded jams, coming in the fifth and ninth innings with no outs. In the fifth, after the Titans loaded the bases on a walk, a single and an error, Traber struckout the next three batters to get out of the jam. With a 6-3 lead in the ninth, the Titans again loaded the bases. Traber allowed a run on a sac fly and retired the next two batters on a fly and a ground out for his 10th win of the season. David Maffei's two-run home run in the first inning started a four-run outburst for the Lions in the first two innings of the game. The win allowed the Lions to advance in the winner's bracket against Southern California. USC used a three-run eighth and a five-run ninth to break a 5-5 tie in the top of the eighth for a 13-5 win over the Lions. LMU dropped to 0-3 against the Trojans on the season. The Lions allowed 18 hits in the loss, dropping the Lions to an elimination game against Cal State Fullerton, who defeated Virginia Tech to advance. Michael Schultz went seven and two-thirds innings and picked up his sixth loss of the season. Jeff Walker was an offensive spark for the Lions, finishing the game 2-for-4 with two RBI and a double. Senior Ben Bonilla pitched a complete game for the Lions, but picked up his first loss of the season in a 5-2 defeat to Cal State Fullerton, knocking the Lions out of the NCAA Tournament. Fullerton's Ronnie Corona went eight innings and allowed only four hits and struckout 12 Lions for the win. Kirk Saarloos came in the ninth for the save. The Lions had only five players reach base, as Fullerton advanced to the championship against USC. The Trojans would win the regional to advance to the Super Regional. The Lions finished the season 40-19 (22-8).

COACH OF THE YEAR..

Head Coach Frank Cruz, wrapping up his fourth season as skipper of the LMU Baseball program, earned career win No.100 on March 10 when his Lions defeated San Francisco, 16-4, in Game 1 of LMU's three game series at Page Stadium. Cruz has guided LMU to 30-plus win seasons in each of the past three years. The 40 wins this season is his career high here at LMU.

19 YEARS OF BASEBALL AT PAGE STADIUM...

Now in its 19th season as the home of Lion baseball, George C. Page Stadium represents one of the finest collegiate baseball facilities in the country. The facility, which has been the site of filming for numerous commercials as well as feature films, is named in honor of George C. Page, president of the Incentive Aid Foundation. Maynard Kambak, father of LMU baseball alumnus Jeff Kambak, assisted Mr. Page in the stadium's construction that was completed in 1983. LMU's historic first game in Page Stadium was played on March 19, 1983, LMU losing to Cal State Fullerton, 5-1. This season the Lions were an impressive 21-6 at Page Stadium, which was the best winning percentage (.778) in the conference. They enter the 2001 campaign with a five game win streak at Page Stadium. Since 1997, when Frank Cruz took over the program, LMU has established a 71-45 record at Page, a winning percentage of more than 61 percent. That percentage is also the Lions' overall mark at home in the park's 18 years, as the LMU has posted a 316-201 record (.611). Some of the best years have come in the five conference titles the Lions have won while calling Page Stadium home. They are 168-55 in conference championship years at home. The first Page Stadium conference title came in 1986 when the Lions posted a 24-8 record at home that season. The best record came in 1988, when LMU was 30-4 at home (88 percent).
